Home Office Deduction Worksheet

Please use this worksheet to give us information about your home office for preparation of your tax returns.

There are two versions of this worksheet; a non-fillable PDF (what you are viewing now) and an online digital form. If you feel like safely and securely submitting this information via our website, please use this redirect link-

Worksheets Available

Here is a list of our worksheets. As mentioned before, you do not have to replicate data that is available elsewhere. For example, mortgage interest and real estate taxes reported on Form 1098 do not need to be entered again with our worksheets. Let’s keep life simple and easy for you; that’s why you hired us.

Home Office Qualification
Your home office will qualify as your principal place of business if you use it exclusively and regularly for administrative activities, and you have no other fixed location where you conduct substantial administrative activities. For example, you cannot claim a home office deduction if you occasionally work from home, but otherwise have an office at your employer’s place of business.

However, you may also have two work locations, an office outside the home and an office inside the home provided you perform substantially all your administrative activities in your home office. For example, you are a landscaper with a shop. Your shop has a desk and a phone, but you perform substantially all your administrative activities for your landscaping business from your home office, both work locations count.

Administrative activities include performing bookkeeping, speaking to your tax accountant, employment issues, paying bills, etc. Please see our blog post on tax homes and how it affects home offices-

Aside from exclusively, home offices must also be used regularly. Using a home office one day a week for your small business, for example, will typically not qualify as regularly used.

Spoiler Alert: Home offices are not huge tax deductions. The biggest expenses such as mortgage interest and real estate taxes are already being deducted on your tax returns. However, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 has limited these deductions and perhaps a home office can leverage other non-deductible expenses.

Home offices will put about $100-$150 in most taxpayer’s pockets. Not huge, but worth a dinner or two. Or 20 footlongs at Subway. The material benefit to a home office is your commute now becomes the walk from your bedroom to your office, and all your mileage is now considered business mileage. That's the boom- 8,000 miles at 60 some cents a mile is a $5,000 tax deduction or $1,200 to $1,500 cash in your pockets. Lots of footlongs.

Business Entity Owners
Do not complete this worksheet if you own a Partnership or Corporation. Use the Accountable Plan Reimbursement form-

If you need help or have questions, please email or call us. We’ll jump on the phone and walk you through Accountable Plan and how it works.
Expenses

Please send your mortgage interest statements (Form 1098) and any other year-end statements. We will use that information to compute your deduction for mortgage interest, private mortgage insurance (PMI) and real estate taxes.

Please complete the rest of the expenses associated with your entire home, and we will allocate the expenses to your home office accordingly.

Improvements, Direct Expenses

Did you make any improvements to your home office space that was directly related to its business use? For example, a massage therapist might need to install new lighting and sound system specific to massage therapy. If your situation is similar, please explain below-

Do you use a separate structure from your house for business purposes (ie, storage shed)? If so, please explain how utilities and property taxes are separated from the primary structure below-

Home Office Connection

Briefly describe how this home office is used in conjunction with your job or small business below-
Did you use this home office for the entire year? If not, please provide starting and ending dates, and a brief explanation. Also, if you changed primary homes during the year, we might need you to complete this form twice.

How many hours per week do you use your home office for your job or small business use? ________________

Do you use the space exclusively as a home office?
Yes   No

Do you have another office that you use at a different location?
Yes   No

Did you operate a childcare facility in your home?
Yes   No

Did you reimburse yourself for your home office using an Accountable Plan?
Yes   No   Unsure

Home Office Set Up Information
We need some basic information about your home office when one or more of the following apply-

▲ You are a new client to WCG (yay!)

▲ You switched homes, and subsequently switched home office spaces.

▲ You started your home office for the first time during the tax year.

When determining the value of the land, the property assessment from the county assessor can be helpful- we can also help with this too. Land value is used to determine depreciation.
